

ANOTHER TWO-WAY AERIAL ASSAULT LEAVES ADDITIONAL WRECKAGE IN CAROLINE ISLANDS

General Douglas MacArthur Further Strengthens His Position in Admiralty Group by Seizing Another Island — Bombers Smash at Truk

By International News Service

Another two-way aerial assault by American central and southwest Pacific air forces left additional wreckage strewn among key enemy positions in the Caroline Islands today, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur further strengthened his position in the Admiralty group by seizing another island.

While land-based U. S. bombers smashed Truk, Woleai and Eauripik in a night-and-day series of assaults, details were avidly awaited of the American naval and air blow against the Palau Islands, which are 460 miles east of the Philippines.

Gen. MacArthur's communique announced that U. S. dismounted cavalrymen stormed ashore under a naval and air bombardment to occupy Pityu Island in the Admiralties. Only sniper opposition was encountered by the invaders, who previously had captured all vital points on the larger nearby islands of Manus and Los Negros.

The communique revealed also that the MacArthur fliers hit Woleai and Eauripik islands for the second time in 24 hours. The raiders concentrated on the Woleai airdrome and "enemy installations" on the other side. The previous day, the bulletin said, other airmen had included Dublon Island in Truk lagoon among their objectives.

De Lorenzo Indicted For False Statements

NEW YORK, Apr. 1—Thomas De Lorenzo, 35, president of Local 365, United Auto Workers (C. I. O.), was indicted yesterday by a Federal Grand Jury on a charge of making false statements in an affidavit submitted in connection with his appointment to the labor panel of the National War Labor Board.

The indictment charged that Mr. De Lorenzo, whose local represents employees of the Brewster Aeronautical Corp., asserted in an affidavit sworn to April 30, 1943, in connection with an application for Federal employment, that he never had been arrested or indicted except for traffic violations in New York City.

Thomas F. Murphy, Assistant Chief of the Criminal Division of the U. S. Attorney's Office, said that Mr. De Lorenzo was arrested on March 15, 1933, in New York on a disorderly conduct charge; on December 16, 1933, on a homicide-by-automobile charge; on July 7, 1941, in Hackensack, N. J., on charges of inciting a riot and malicious mischief.

He said Mr. De Lorenzo was indicted on the latter charge.

The union official also was charged in the indictment with stating he had been employed from January, 1935, to July, 1939, by the Seversky Aircraft Co. as an assembler. The statement, the indictment set forth, was false in that he was never employed in any capacity by the Seversky organization.

Mr. De Lorenzo, whose residence was given as Long Island City, testified before a House committee last November that he was born Harry Posner, used many aliases, including Tom De Lorenzo, James Harris and Sid Traus, and that he legally had changed his name to De Lorenzo in 1940.

INTRIGUING STORY OF HAWK MOUNTAIN IS TOLD TRAVEL CLUB MEMBERS WHEN VISIT IS PAID HERE BY DR. EDWARD E. WILDMAN

The story of Hawk Mountain and the hawk sanctuary established there formed the basis for an interesting talk by Dr. Edward E. Wildman, of Philadelphia, yesterday, when the former director of nature study in the Philadelphia public schools, addressed members of the Travel Club.

Dr. Wildman, who has appeared before thousands of men, women and young people with delightful and instructive information on birds, bees, flowers, trees, and other nature lore, had a most receptive audience yesterday. He was presented to the club members and guests by Mrs. Earl H. Tomb, chairman of the club conservation and garden committee.

Referring at the outset of his account of Hawk Mountain to falconry, "the sport of kings," and the fact that until a few years ago no one knew just where the hawks were during the winter season, Dr. Wildman proceeded to tell an intriguing story of these winged friends of man. He told how careful study of the hawks has disproven that old belief that "the only good hawk is a dead hawk," continuing by telling how the hawks destroyed field mice in great numbers, thereby helping to protect trees which the mice harm.

Something was told of the speed and the general habits of various hawks. Dr. Wildman informing that the duck hawk has been clocked at 164 miles per hour.

He mentioned that Hawk Mountain Sanctuary was not known until 1932. It was stated that observations showed a great up-surge of air at the saddle connecting two ranges 25 miles north of Reading. Continued observations proved that hawks rode this "roller coaster

ALLIES SEND LIBERATORS TO BOMB S. W. GERMANY

London—Undeterred by the loss of 14 Royal Air Force bombers in Thursday's furious thousand-plane assault against Nuremberg, the Eighth U. S. Army Air Force today continued the attack on Fortress Europe, sending Liberators, escorted by fighters, to bomb southwest Germany.

The new attacks followed raids by the RAF on Western Germany, carried out without a single plane being lost. Watchers along the coast reported that United States bombers and fighters apparently also were attacking the French invasion coast. The daylight sweeps, first during April, followed a record-breaking march in which 25 attacks were carried out by American bombers.

Air raid sirens sounded in Zurich, Switzerland, as the German radio said "strong Allied formations" of planes were over the Reich. The American bombers appeared in formations numbering up to 30, a Swiss statement declared. Several fires were started in the area of the Schaffhausen railway station and rail traffic was suspended temporarily.

Anna M. Boland, owner of the property, was released on the same amount of bail.

The investigation was made by Agents John M. Snyder, who signed the complaint; L. V. Huzzard, William Heller and M. Meyers.

STUDENTS SEEK AID FOR FIELD IMPROVEMENTS

Group Appears Before The Travel Club, Seeking Members' Support

CIRCULATE PETITION

Students of the Bristol high school are conducting a vigorous campaign to have the high school field improved so that "it will be fit to play on" as they express it.

The students are campaigning to arouse the support of the residents of Bristol in behalf of their movement.

The field, for the past several years, has been in such condition that those engaging in athletic activities have done so with the danger of being injured.

Last week a group of students appeared before the Bristol Exchange Club and presented their plea for public support and yesterday three students addressed the members of the Bristol Travel Club.

Three students from Bristol high school, Calvin Solla, Jack Sirott, and Alfred Capriotti, were given the privilege of addressing the club members. The three told of improvements needed to place the high school athletic field in good condition, and asked support of the Travel Club in backing such improvement. The three passed snap-shots among the group, showing field conditions. The club members passed a motion that the club request the school board to reconsider the clubwomen planning to sign their names individually to the said petition.

A few years ago the School Board had an engineer make a survey of the field and at that time it was found that improvement of the field would cost several thousands of dollars.

Another plea was laid before the School Board at the March meeting and on that occasion the Board gave the subject consideration and stated that improvements would be made when the Board was in a financial position to do so.

2nd Waste Paper Drive To Open On April 17th

The last drive, concluded a few weeks ago, brought in 58,291 pounds of paper, it is announced, and students are anxious to surpass this total.

Oh-o! April 1st!

(By "The Stroller")
Fire Chief Clifford Hagerman "pulled" a real April Fool joke this morning on his fellow firemen in Bristol borough.

It was not intentional on the Chief's part, but his face was certainly red, and matched the color of the apparatus responding to his call.

Chief Hagerman was at plant No. 1 of Fleetwings, Division of Kaiser Cargo, Inc., searching for "grounds" in the fire alarm system, when at about 10:30 he accidentally tripped fire alarm box No. 315, located in front of the main office of the big aircraft plant.

Firemen in the various fire stations here leaped to the apparatus and all equipment responded to the call from Box 315, which is listed in red on the various fire alarm directories, calling for extra speed and all apparatus out.

Trio Known to Many in This Area Hope to Start Training Soon

CLERGYMAN SPEAKS

High School Band Plays; Recordings Also On The Program

Among the young men being examined in Philadelphia today for entrance into the armed forces are several who made application for immediate induction provided they are physically qualified.

In this particular category are Harry Pittman, of Edgely, who for the past 18 years has been employed at the Bristol office of Railway Express; Clarence Schweitzer, local mail carrier; and Joseph Haines, who is connected with the Tullytown Sand and Gravel Co.

This trio is part of the 134 men who left Bristol on the 8:25 train this morning to undergo physical examinations.

At the same hour a large number who had qualified for service in the United States Navy boarded a train here, bound for their training bases. Thus the navy recruits rated two official "send-offs," a band and large group of residents gathering at Bristol post office and the railroad station to bid them good-bye today, and they having been given a formal farewell when they left for examinations.

The Rev. Lehman Strauss, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, briefly addressed the men, and offered a prayer.

SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1944

BENEFICENT APRIL

April's advent may remind Americans that most of the wars in which this country became engaged began in this month. It is usually only in early spring that Americans, naturally peaceful, get angry enough to declare war.

When May arrived in 1941, many persons thought this country could escape war on the ground that the perilous month of April had passed. But the Japs showed that they "loved us" in December as they did in May, and another superstition went into the discard.

April is important in the financial history of this country, and anyone who still retains at least an academic interest in money might note that the United States Mint was established in April in 1792. The United States Bank also was chartered in April, the year 1816. It seems that ever since this country was founded, it was in the spring the government's fancy lightly turned to thoughts of coin. This still holds true, although no longer lightly.

It was an event that occurred in April which made shoe rationing possible, too. The patent for a sewing machine for leather shoes was issued to the inventor, Gordon McKay, in April in the year 1862. Upon this invention, schoolboys are told, was built the great boot and shoe industry in the United States.

So if it weren't for Gordon and his sewing machine, there might not be even two pairs of shoes a year available for the taxpayer who can afford them. April has been kind.

SPOT NEWS

The gravy spot has all but disappeared from the American clothing front, in consequence of the vanishing American T-bone steak. There were only 250,000 gravy spots reported this past year, compared with 5,000,000 in 1941, an all time gravy spot high.

There has been a pronounced increase in spots from fresh greens such as broccoli and spinach, liquor spots have more than held their own, even on the clothing of 'teen-age consumers; 300,000 face powder stains had to be removed from Army uniforms last year. The messy state of the nation was further indicated by the finding of 2,500,000 ink spots, 500,000 of them in Washington alone.

These bits of spot news are the findings of Phil Cooper, a New York spokesman for the dry cleaning industry, who conducted a survey of 40,000 cleaning establishments in the interests of the trade.

Subconsciously, many persons must have missed the gravy stain in its one time place of prominence on necktie or coat lapel. There was something different about acquaintances on which one couldn't exactly put one's finger. Thanks to Mr. Cooper, it is revealed that something has been subtracted, namely gravy. His other findings may be commended to the attention of social vigilantes, to the Army and to those in Washington who they may concern.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor
Bristol Presbyterian Church

Eternal God and Father of us all, we come to Thee in weakness, seeking strength for the trials of the day. There are times when we are burdened apparently beyond our ability. There are times when our hopes for blessings seem to be so far away; when the struggle does not seem to warrant the end. Strengthen us in our discouragement, O God, and let us see the light of final victory. Let us see time in the light of Thy providence, and realize that with the proper perspective all things fall into their proper places. Thus give us courage for each new day and strength and faith to live that day for Thee. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Escapes From Jungle Held By Japanese

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 1.—Lt. Nelson DeCoursey Flack, Jr., 20, Bucks county flier, after a 22-day jaunt, is out of the New Guinea jungles.

The story of that agonizing march, mostly through Japanese-held jungle, was told in a delayed despatch from New Guinea and was news in the Bridge Valley home, which Flack, the 1942 football captain at Hatboro high school, left for the Army Air Forces upon his graduation that year.

His father had been notified in mid-February that Lt. Flack was missing and two weeks ago that he'd been found.

Let with him from the jungle by an Australian Commando were three other American airmen, who'd taken small observation planes to Flack's rescue, but had been unable to get them off the ground in the thick tangle of kumal grass in the upper Ramu Valley.

The five men were reported to be recovered in an American hospital.

Lt. Flack's ordeal began when his fighting plane was forced down after a raid on Wewak. He has been twice awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, four times the Air Medal, and has 360 combat hours, two Japanese planes shot down, two damaged, and one probably to his credit—he knew the next step demanded of him.

He burned his plane, papers and maps. All he could do next was to wait.

The first observation planes flown to him by Sgt. A. Saltink, of Alhambra, Cal., and Technical Sgt. James D. Nichols, of Los Angeles, cracked up on landing in the kumal grass. The third, piloted by Tech. Sgt. Thomas P. Stalone, Los Angeles, landed successfully but couldn't take off.

Finally, Lt. H. D. Henstidge, the Australian, parachuted to the area and found the Americans. He was chosen because he knew the jungle trails. The five men had two days' rations. They divided these into minute portions destined to last ten days of the 22 and then started hacking their way back.

Their shoes wore out and they had to rest for days while their bleeding feet healed. At the last they lived on lizards, a duck they shot, pawpaws, and other jungle fruits. Leeches attached themselves to Henstidge's eyeballs. His companions could not remove them and he suffered excruciating pain, but still led them on. Finally an Australian patrol met them.

Mrs. Louis C. Spring delightfully entertained with a monologue, "Dorothy Dumb Takes Up Gardening."

Mrs. E. Linton Martin, president, introduced to the members and guests Mrs. Richard H. Landis, of Election of officers will occur on that day, and annual reports will be received. Members were informed that coffee, tea, rolls and butter will be served, and ice cream will be sold.

Mrs. Willard Bartoe presented to Mrs. Martin the book the president became entitled to by virtue of winning a recent quiz contest sponsored by the club.

A miniature garden arranged by Mrs. Warren H. Woodruff was on display, this featuring moss, ferns, evergreens, small birds, etc.

Tea was served by the social committee.

Fischer the animal had been bitten by his dog, the veterinarian decided to give all of Mr. Fischer's seven cows tests. All with the exception of the one which appeared to be sick reacted favorably. The cow was killed immediately.

A short time after it was determined the cow was suffering from rabies several stray dogs, which were said to have been quite vicious and which had been roaming the country, were shot. An effort is being made also to kill all stray cats and dogs in the vicinity.

The extension of the campaign into April will give these volunteers the opportunity they want to 'hit the goal' for the Red Cross in its role of being the greatest mother in the world to the greatest number of service men and women in history."

Passing through the streets of the camp of one of the Army units engaged in the fighting at the Anzio beachhead, Italy, Cpl. Richard Magill, Army Armored Division, and a Doylestown resident, heard his name called and found the call came from two Doylestown men, George Carver, Jr., and Nathan Wisner, both now members of the organization quartered in the camp. Magill was passing through.

In a letter received by his wife, Cpl. Magill wrote that he was going back that afternoon for a visit with them as he had only a few minutes to talk when he first met them.

Describing his "residence" at Anzio, in his letter to Mrs. Magill, who lives in Mechanicsville, Cpl. Magill wrote that he constructed his dugout by digging a hole about six feet deep and then covering it with timbers from shattered buildings in the vicinity. On top of the timbers he put a layer of dirt two and a half feet thick. He lined the dugout with pieces of the packing boxes containing the "C" ration and in some manner not described in the letter, he acquired a folding canvas cot.

Cpl. Magill is the driver of a half-track truck and keeps the machine close to him. He wrote that no lights of any kind are used at night and that the blackout in the camps is really black.

SERGEANT PAT OF RADIO PATROL

"Lost Angel," starring Margaret O'Brien, the youngster who made such a sensational impact on American movie-going audiences in "Journey for Margaret" with James Craig and Marsha Hunt.

Little Margaret will bring a lump to your throat, a smile to your lips and a glow to your heart with her portrayal of the child prodigy who finds an unsuspected happiness when she runs away from home on the trail of a breezy reporter who has promised to show her magic.

When a group of scientists undertake a study in experimental psychology, their subject is a founding girl whom they plan to raise scientifically for six years in order to demonstrate that any child can be a mental giant.

RITZ THEATRE

"Escapist" is pretty much of an abused word these days but it's more than applicable to Paramount's laughlin, "No Time for Love," which opened last night at the Ritz Theatre with Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray in the starring roles. The picture is full of romantic fun, the kind that makes you forget everything but the good time you're having, which comes under the heading of "escapist," if anything does.

The story concerns the attraction of a highbrow woman photographer to a cave man tunnel digger. They meet when Miss Colbert, as the photographer, is sent to the floor of the tunnel for pictures of the sandhogs (tunnel diggers) at work.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Advance notice on "The Racket Man" brings promise of excitement apiently when it opens at the Bristol Theatre on Sunday. An expose of the nation's newest billion dollar rackets, it is said to pack the tenseness of a Commando raid with the romanticism of a June moon.

If Sherlock Holmes had lived to be an octogenarian, he would have doubtless closely resembled Henry Stephenson, who portrays the 80-year-old ex-Scotland Yard detective in "The Man Trap," which will open Sunday at the Bristol Theatre for a run of two days.
